TWO DROWN.

Peter Wilson And Clarence Robinson, Fishermen, Lose Lives Near Kosmosdale.

Peter Wilson, aged thirty-eight years, and Clarence Robinson, aged thirty-four years, fishermen, were drowned in the Ohio river near Kosmosdale, at 10 o'clock Thursday morning. They started out to cross the river to the Indiana side to run their fishing line when the wind caused the water to become rough and overturned the skiff. Both wore rubber boots and heavy clothes and sank after floundering about for a few minutes.

Squire White, a fisherman, and Harry Applegate, a farmer, saw the men in the water and started their aid. In a skiff, but the men sank for the last time before the rescuers could reach them. Wilson was an excellent swimmer, but Robinson was not.

Wilson and Robinson had been fishermen in the neighborhood of Kosmosdale for two years. Both were married. Wilson is survived by his widow. Robinson leaves a widow and six children. Both men were members of the Kosmosdale Lodge of Modern Woodmen, and that organization offered a reward of $15 each for the recovery of the bodies. Wilson wore a Masonic emblem on his coat, and Robinson wore a Woodmen emblem.—Louisville Times.

THE CIRCUS HAS COME TO TOWN.

Howe's Wonderful London Shows Pitch Their Tents In Cloverport Folks Get Up Early To See Show Men Unload Trains And Have Lots Of Fun With Them.

GREAT CROWD IS EXPECTED.

Brass Bands, Elephant, Peanuts, Clowns, Caged Lions, Red Lemons, Green Balloons, Monkeys, (all kinds) have hit Cloverport with the circus today. Early this morning the long show train pulled in the City and were unloaded in the Breckenridge addition where the show men pitched their tents in a hurry. A large crowd of small boys were on the grounds to welcome them and within a short while a bunch of girls from up town were on the scene eagerly watching for Kate Dooley, the circus beauty. About nine o'clock Miss Dooley slipped from her private car and went to the big tent where a good looking man met her at the entrance. The girls fought Kate then, and the next time they saw her she was in Mrs. Polk's store, buying a tub hat.

Emma La Low, "Queen of the high wire" tripped over to a trio of boys and asked "where is Ed Alexander's store pitched?" The boys were scared to death and said Hardinsburg, but they meant Irvington. She passed on and just as she darted into a side show she threw a kiss to a man from Nolte's store that was down there, trying to sell the show people butter and eggs. One little rag-a-muffin, that evidently, belonged to the show came in the Bank of Cloverport, crying and said he was looking for Sawyer's store where his Mamma was "at," but when his Mamma was found she was in Severs Drug Store buying face and lip paint. The little boy and his Mamma went to O'Dwyer's hat store and asked if Miss Laura Hase was there, and they told her no she trimmed hats at Jolly's store at Irvington.

Some show people were intensely interesting. They seemed to have been about all the business enterprises in Breckenridge County. One intelligent looking acrobat asked the Breckenridge Bank if J. Bacon's was the only store in Louisville.

The Lion Tamer and the Elephant riders were most enthusiastic over up-to-date vehicles and inquired of a News representative how far Custer and Irvington were from that place, said they wanted to go to Ashcraft's and Taylor & Suter's store because they read their ad in the News last week. Of course, then everybody understood how they knew about those places, they had

DEMOCRATS DELIGHTED.

Friends of Hon. Ben Johnson In Cloverport Rejoice Over The News That He Wants To Be Governor.

JUST THE MAN THEY NEEDED

When the word came from Washington that Hon. Ben Johnson will make the race for Governor of Kentucky, there was much rejoicing among the Democrats of this City, and for several days they have been talking the good news over continually. Just who were the prouddest? Tom Tousey or James Younger over the announcement could not be decided by the happy Democrats, but all of them are more than pleased.

It is said, that Mr. Johnson does not mean he has begun or expects to soon begin anything like a canvass for the important office mentioned for he has other political plans to accomplish first. In Washington Mr. Johnson is known as "the silent man" who does things. The Democratic leaders throughout the state are saying that Johnson is the man needed to redeem their party in Kentucky.

Balltown is looming, has two good stores, two blacksmith shops and a grist mill.

W. N. Pate, our bustling merchant, is erecting a new residence adjoining his store and expects to move into it as soon as possible.

Mrs. Budget McGovern is quite sick. Eddie Wilson, of Evansville is visiting his sister, Mrs. T. M. Briley.

Our farmers are complaining that the tobacco plants are very small for the time of the year and the ground is too wet to plow for, or plant corn.

W. N. Pate sent a very pretty bunch of hogs to Louisville last week for which he expects a good price.

Evert Frank, of Evansville, is expected here this week on a visit.

Sunday, April 19, was the 82nd birthday of Mr. Samuel Muffett. Several relatives gathered and enjoyed a beautiful country dinner.

Uncle Sam is hale and hearty and looks as though he might see many more birthdays. He is now with pride how far he could jump and thinks little of saddling his horse and riding four or five miles. His good wife, aunt Harriet, is one of a remarkable family, she being one of five children, the youngest being 69 years of age. They are as follows:

Balance In Furniture.

To lay down a set of rules for arranging the furniture in any room is obviously impossible, as fittings differ so radically. But there are certain things that can be done successfully with furniture and others that spoil the appearance of the most expensive fitted up apartment. First and foremost of these is to "balance" a room, meaning by that not to get all the heavy pieces or all the large pictures on one side. If, for example, there is a large sofa against one wall, across from it there should be a table or something like that to preserve the equalities. It need not be exactly across, but somewhere on the other side, to avoid looking as though, were the floor swung one side, it would go down and the other come up. In rearranging a room the rugs, if any are used, should be taken up and the floors left so that the chairs, etc., can be easily moved to experiment for the best placing.

Men's suits from $1.50 up, our own custom made suits we sold at $12.50, $16.00 and $18.00 will go at $9.60 to $12.60 at W. J. Schopp's, Stephensport, Ky.

Her Mother's Wit.

A Kentucky girl whose father was an undertaker was sent a fashionable New York boarding school for a finishing term. One day one of the girls asked her what business her father was in. Hearing that she would lose caste if she told the truth, she carelessly answered: "Oh my father's a southern planter." (Lippincott's)

A VALUABLE WEED.

The Tassel That Is Used to Raise the Nap on Cloth.

Our readers who never saw a tassel (tassel also tassel and tassel, and even tassel can imagine a fir cone or "swamp cattail," set all over with little stiff looks. It is the nap or tassel or downy head or little top of the plant diaphanous, and so identified is it with cloth dressing that this use of it gave it its botanical name, Diaphanous, or fuller's tassel.

However familiar to people who live in lands where the tassel is extensively grown the fact may be that the prickly heads of that plant are universally used to raise the nap on cloth, a multitude of persons in his country probably never heard of it and will be astonished to learn of this enormous quackery the plant is raised.

In France alone several thousand acres of land are exclusively devoted to the cultivation of the tassel. French manufacturers use many thousands of acres worth of the prickly heads and export thousands of tons of them, valued at perhaps millions of dollars. Hundreds of tons are produced in Austria, Denmark, Belgium, Poland and the Crimea.

The prickles of the tassel have a small knob at the end, and this, mounted on a chisel shaped set with great precision on the central spindle, affords a little brush, such, it is said, as the utmost mechanical skill has never been able to rival, at all events at the same price.—New York Herald.

Tariff Talk.

If that duty on tea were restricted in its application to the pink variety, much complaint against the tax would be silenced.—[New Orleans Times-Democrat.]

Mr. Payne put his foot in it with that sticking tariff, sure enough.—[Milwaukee Sentinel.]

The charge of the hat-pin brigade is the one thing that really worries Mr. Payne.—[Washington Post.]

While congressmen in the lower house are talking their way to a vote, the outsiders who will really settle the schedules are quietly getting in their work with the senators. If it takes Senator Lodge over an hour to work his way from the Senate chamber to the luncheon room, how long will it take to get the Senate bill ready?—[Boston Herald.]

Those congressmen are undoubtedly very witty, but humorous speeches at a cost of $10,000,000 a day to the country come a bit high. Why not reserve them for the 50-cent Chattanooga?—[Detroit News.]

In the face of this tariff on stockings, dear old grandma merely smiles, and goes on with her knitting.—[Cleveland Leader.]

A tax on talk might have a better effect than a reduction of congressional salaries.—[Atlanta Constitution.]

Republican congressmen seem likely to Democratize themselves over the tariff bill and split all to pieces.—[Cleveland Plain Dealer.]

An Opinion.

"Say, paw," said Little Rollo, "why do you call George Washington the father of his country?"

"I dunno, son, unless it was because the country kept him busting to keep him out of trouble and then came to look at him as a sort of old fog whose advice didn't amount to much anyhow."—[Washington Star.]

DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the best known pills and the best pills made, are easy to take and act gently and are certain. We sell and recommend them.—All Druggists.

A WEDGWOOD ROOM.

This Shade Will Be Pretty In Spring Redecoration.

There is just a certain wedgwood blue that is exquisite with a putty colored wall. It is not well to use this combination in a north light, which needs the warmer colonial yellow, but it may be held in reserve for the room having a southern or western exposure, with its sotted light. The putty color is colder and less yellow than the colonial shades—as if a touch of gray had been dashed in—but there is still enough of the creamy tone left to blend with the wedgwood blue of the hangings.

These curtain goods may be found in such inexpensive materials as galatea, cotton poplin and Japanese crepe, all of which are more recent arrivals on the decorator's counter than denim and herring.

Several pieces of old mahogany, a peacock screen and a bowl of polished brass are the needed touches in this chaste little room.

300 Men's Hats worth all from $1.50 to $3.00 go at 90c at W. J. Schopp's, Stephensport, Ky.

To Protect a Bureau.

One housekeeper who has maligned bedroom furniture and a careless father to his son in a way to protect his 400 of his bureau. She buys a remnant of white cloth and has it cut to fit the top of the bureau. This is put on beneath the ordinary bureau cover.

Naturally, a cover that is not transparent must be used, but those of plume or heavy linen are both smart and serviceable, and the old cloth only keeps the wood from scratching, but prevents more serious scarring from hot curling irons or dropped matches.

HUMAN BAIT.

The Men Who Gather Leeches in the Swamps of England.

Pale and lean, he spoke in a low voice, crumbling a water cracker:

"Dish" is hard work, and sulphur isn't hard work, but how'd you like to be baited at a chillerin' day? That ain't quite a dollar.

"I was human bait for a leech dealer in England all one spring. It was back in the eighties, but I ain't never recovered the healthy color and weight I lost. I guess I never will now."

"Down Norfolk way I lugged down in the Norfolk broods. Bronks is swamps. All them swamps, together with the wild, moist climate, makes Norfolk a great place for leeches. Me and a dozen other chaps was leech bait."

"We would wade in with our breeches rolled up to our knees, and as soon as we'd feel a leech on our legs we'd tear him off and drop him in a basket slung from the shoulder. Quick as thunder we'd do it, but he'd be considerable plumped out even in that little while."

And when a dozen leeches settled on you together the last of 'em by the time you got round to him would be as fat and heavy as a lump of lead, whilst you'd be that much lighter interbly."

"In the late spring the leeches took to deep water. Then the bait had to strip and wade in up to their chins. With all that surface to look after, we played a leech game with the leeches. The quickest of us couldn't stand more'n four hours of it without most fatality from weakness. And the pain! For some parts of the human body is mighty sensitive. I tell you."

"The trade's died out now. There's no more call for leeches, and it's a good thing. Bein' bait is too hard on a man. It's worms' work."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

What Equity Is Doing.

If there is any one set of farmers more than any other set of farmers who are making improvements on their farms, buying machinery, furniture, lumber, building fences, improving their stock, combining to build and operate elevators, owning warehouses and forcing ahead generally, it is the set who are members of the American Society of Equity. It is the general testimony of business men that in the States of Kentucky, Wisconsin and North Dakota there has been more liberal buying by the farmers than at any time during the past fifteen years. These are the three States where the American Society of Equity is the strongest.—Equity Farm Journal.

No trace of beauty can pass or perish, but other beauty is somewhere born;

No seed of truth or good be planted, but the yield must grow as the growing corn.

—Bliss Carman.

W. J. PIGGOTT was in this city last Wednesday enroute to his home from Tobinsport where he conducted the Masonic services at the funeral of Mr. Till Groves.

Mr. Piggott is a prominent Mason, a leading Republican and a successful business man of Breckenridge county. A little more than twenty-five years ago, he, with several young men, left their homes in England and sailed the waters for America to seek their fortunes.

Mr. Piggott's ambition was to attain a definite and practical knowledge of farming and he did so by working on Thos. J. Jolly's farm near Bewleyville. While he was learning to till the soil there, Mr. Piggott also worked hard and fast to win the heart and hand of Miss Clara Jolly, of Hardinsburg. They spent their early married life on their farm at Bewleyville and now have a beautiful home at Irvington, where Mr. Piggott is one of the town's foremost promoters.

He has several business enterprises there, the largest one being the Irvington Mill Company, and he is president of the First State Bank. The Republicans think Mr. Piggott would make an exceedingly acceptable candidate for senator.

Mr. and Mrs. Piggott have two excellent sons, Messrs. Hubert and Joe Piggott, and an attractive young daughter, Miss Elizabeth Piggott.

Commencement day for the Cloverport High School is drawing near and the sweet girl graduates are busy planning their dainty frocks and the young men are busy composing their orations for the commencement exercises which will be held Friday evening, May twenty-eighth. There are five young people to be graduated this year: Miss Reta Lewis, Miss Emiline Lewis, Messrs. Louie Ditzendach, Virgil Babbage and James Burk. Prof. Wroe is making arrangements for the program and we are looking forward to the event with great pleasure.

Jerry Tilford, one of the oldest passenger conductors in the service of the Henderson Route, has been off duty for several weeks on account of sickness. During a service of nearly twenty years this is the first time he has had to quit work. His host of friends hope his illness is only temporary and that he will soon be at his accustomed place on the Branch.

Ernest Hender-on and Jonas Lyons have good reports from their early corn planting. They say it is all up, a splendid stand and looks fine. We wish we had a thousand acres more in this county of early planting to report on. Every farmer in the county, large or small, should get onto the plan of early planting.

J. T. Dutschke, of Franklin Cross Roads, was over Sunday to see his father, August Dutschke, whom he reports in very much better health than he expected to find him. He also visited his uncle, Julius Dutschke at Holt. The Dutschke folks are fine, cheery people and we wish we had more friends like them.

It seems now that we are to have eggs standing around the 20 cent mark all summer. April is the great packing month in the year and there is a big shortage. The hens it is claimed are not doing their usual good work and are away behind in their production, so the consumer, poor fellow, will have to pay the piper.

Hawkins Smith has brightened up his farm, out houses and fence with a coat of whitewash. His is a nice, attractive farm and home and makes a splendid showing from the railroad. Other farmers along the Branch should follow suit.

Roadmaster Stites was over on the Branch Monday preparing to put that road in good condition. The track between Glendean and Rockvale is to be raised above high water mark and other improvements made.

There is a big lot of fertilizer being sold this Spring in the Custer district. Harrington Bros., report that they have sold 50 tons alone. They say there will be probably 150 tons used in that neighborhood.

Lee Montgomery, freight conductor, on the branch reports business on that road splendid. He says they have handled more merchandise, fertilizer and farm implements than in many years.

There is a good deal of complaint among farmers of the fly in tobacco plant beds. The cold weather of last week gave the fly an excellent opportunity to get in his work.

Cupid in Cloverport must have spring fever. The News has not yet received any marriage announcements for June weddings.

Two more counties in Indiana went "dry" last Monday, making in all 44 "dry" counties in that state.

One cannot say there is "nothing doing" in Cloverport today for we have church, the post-office and a circus.

All tobacco growers in this county, so far as the News has been able to find out, will stick to the 10,000 plants to the hand.

TO TAX PAYERS

Those parties who are owing 1906, 1907, 1908 taxes are hereby notified that these taxes are past due and must be paid. If they are not settled at once will be compelled to advertise property. This is my last year and I am compelled to close up my books.

The Limit Of Wheat

Thirty years ago the world's wheat production was about 3,000,000,000 bushels a year. It now averages about 5,200,000,000 bushels. As this increase is out of proportion to the increase in the world's population it is evident that wheat as a food substance is displacing other commodities previously used. Increase in production in this country has been a little more rapid than the average of world increase. The American crop of thirty years ago averaged about 300,000,000 bushels and it is now about 600,000,000.

The variation of conditions from year to year makes impossible any exact statement, but the figures of the last five years show a large decline in the percentage of American wheat exported. From 1880 to 1889 about 30 per cent. of the total crop was exported, and from 1890 to 1899 about 35 per cent. The average of the last five years has been about one-half that of the preceding twenty-five years. While the maximum of possible acreage has not yet been reached there is little or no probability that the acreage, if it is at all extended, will increase as rapidly as it did in earlier years when new railways were opening new areas to settlement and cultivation. In fact the largest acreage, in the record was that of 1901, when 43,895,514 acres were planted. The year of 1905 followed with 49,461,497 acres. The figures for 1907 drop to 45,211,000. It is conceivable, though little probable, that another ten years may see 60,000,000 acres in wheat. The greater probability is that the increase in acreage will not keep pace with the increase in domestic demand and that the predictions of some observers regarding the diminution of wheat exports will be justified.

The possible approach to the maximum of wheat acreage is not at all the equivalent of approach to the maximum of wheat production. The average wheat yield for the last twenty years has been thirteen and a half bushels to the acre. Here is the weak spot in our national wheat business. The acre value of the American output for the last ten years show an average of about $10.40. As land increases in value it becomes impossible to raise wheat at a profit on any such basis. The State of New York produced more wheat in 1883 than in 1907. New England is practically out of the wheat business. Comparing the yield of 1883 with that of 1907, an increase appears in Pennsylvania and Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, Ohio, Tennessee and Kentucky show fluctuation from year to year, but no material change in ten years average. Michigan shows a shrinkage of about one-half, and Wisconsin appears to be abandoning the industry altogether. Indiana and Illinois about hold their own. Iowa shows marked decline. The grain comes principally in the States of later settlement, the frontier States where land a few years ago was cheap.

The conclusion is inevitable that with the passing of cheap land there must also be a passing of cheap wheat, unless there shall be devised and adopted some profitable system of intensive cultivation, with decided increase in yield to the acre. The alternative will be importation, duty free, from countries that still have cheap land.—New York Sun.

Walker-Pate.

At the residence of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Walker, near Mattingly, at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon a quiet home wedding was solemnized in the presence of a number of friends and relatives, the occasion being the marriage of their daughter, Miss Bertie Judson Walker, to Mr. Oda Pate, son of Len Pate, of Kosmosdale.

The bride is a favorite with a wide circle of friends, and was formerly a teacher in the public schools. The groom is an ex-soldier, having been in Uncle Sam's service, at present, he is a carpenter at Kosmosdale where he and his bride will make this their home.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Isaiah Cline, of Hardinsburg.

$100 Reward. $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces, of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Shall We Pool.

The question in every one's mouth is, "Are we going to pool this year?" Every tobacco leader has been asked this question hundreds of times the past month; and every time he has been asked it we will wager he has asked the party asking it, "Are you going to pool?" This is the whole question. "It makes little difference what the leaders say or think, but what the people say or think is important. If they are going to pool, the question is settled. If they are not, the question is also settled. How can we tell what they will do? There is just as much reason to pool this year as there ever was, and more; and more can be accomplished than ever. The business system to handle the pool is established, the people have money ahead, the business world has been studying the practicability of our plans, our opponents have learned to respect us, fierce opposition is crushed, and those who refused to join heretofore are everywhere declaring their intention of being in the next time. We are inclined to think there will be a pool because we believe in the people's common sense.—A. S. of E. Tobacco News.

But It Was A Filly.

The thoroughbred mare adversity, owned by J. T. Griffith, of Owensboro, Ky., and bought by him of J. B. Haggins, of Lexington, gave birth this week to a filly colt, by First Water. Mr. Griffith had contracted this colt at weaning time to Matt Byrne, of New York, the manager for J. B. Haggins; for $500 provided the colt was a male. This is said to be the largest price ever offered for a Dayview county weanling.—Farmers Home Journal.

Farmers' College in Washington.

Five hundred farmers and their wives were at the O. R. N. station this evening to welcome the State college demonstration train. The train stopped here two hours, the farm lectures were given by Professors Lawrence, Severance, Olney and others. The train consisted of five coaches, one flat car of improved machinery, and one car of cattle, hogs, horses and sheep from the college farm. The contents of the cars were examined by the farmers and their wives with interest. In one of the coaches a lecture was given on raising corn to boys under eighteen years, and several of the boys took samples of the corn and will plant a quarter of an acre each, for the best of which the college will give prizes ranging from $1 to $100. Enough corn will be given away on this trip of the train for 1,000 boys to plant a quarter acre each. Professor Severance takes the boys into separate cars and instructs them in the art of planting, cultivating and harvesting the corn. The seed was grown on the college farm and is thoroughly acclimated.—Garfield correspondence Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

Two of the best doctors in Chicago said I would die if I did not have an operation, and I never thought of seeing a well day again. I had a small tumor and female troubles so that I suffered day and night. A friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it made me a well woman."—Mrs. ALFRED S. SPILLING, 11 Langdon St., Chicago, Ill.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has proved to be the most successful remedy for curing the worst forms of female ills, including displacements, inflammation, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, and nervous prostration. It costs but a trifle to try it, and the result has been worth millions to many suffering women.

The Gordian Knot.
When one of Uncle Sam's sailors, a man named Gordon, formerly serving on one of our vessels in a West Indian squadron, was taken to the Naval hospital in Washington he described with glibness his adventures with his companions there his adventure with a shark off one of the islands in the West Indies. "I had just fell over the hullwarks," said the able seaman, "when along comes a big shark and grab me by the leg."

"What did ye do then, matey?" asked one of the patients. "I never disputes none with sharks," said the sailor. "I let him have the leg."—Harper's Weekly.

A Composer's Compliment.

Wagner once said he would prefer to go to Vienna to hear any one of Strauss to hear Italian opera. On a birthday to Mme. Strauss some years ago she had as guests many celebrated musicians. She passed around a fan on which the different composers and experts were writing their names and excerpts from compositions of their own. When it reached Brahms he penned the first measure of the "Blue Danube" waltz and signed beneath, "Not, I regret to say, by your devoted friend Johannes Brahms."

STOMACH DISTRESS.

And all Misery from Indigestion Vanishes Five Minutes Later.

Every family here ought to keep some Diapiesin in the house as any one of you might have an attack of indigestion or stomach trouble at any time, day or night.

This harmless preparation will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour stomach five minutes afterwards. If your meals don't tempt you, or what little you do eat seems to fill you, or lays like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion.

Ask your Pharmacist for a 50 cent cake of Pape's Diapiesin and take one trisulphate after supper tonight. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, Nausea, Debilitating Headaches, Dizziness or intestinal griping. This will all go, and besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapiesin is a certain cure for all stomach misery, because it will take hold of your food and digest it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.

Actual, prompt relief for all your stomach misery is at your pharmacist, waiting for you.

These large 50 cent cakes contain more than sufficient to cure a case of Dyspepsia of Indigestion.

Pensive Butlers.

The fashion of building houses with the entrance doors practically on a level with the street gives the observing stroller on Fifth Avenue some humorous glimpses of butlers on duty. In the house of one of the most fashionable families in town the butler can be seen standing behind the bronze door and glass doors staring discomfitedly out in the passing throng for most of the afternoon, while across the street from this house the same kind of an entranceway often discloses a glimpse of a functionary of the same class seated in a postural attitude by a circular marble table, his head supported by his hand. Outside of a hospital they are probably the saddest looking men in New York.—New York Press.

Tact- And What It Does.

The women who have exerted the greatest social influence have not been beautiful nor intellectual. Among them was an American woman, Mrs. Octavia Le Vert, of Alabama, whose reputation for social charm and popularity was international. She had a pleasing and a cultivated intelligence, and she had supreme tact—a possession that enabled her to please all classes, to reconcile social differences, to be the friend and counselor of statesmen—the confident and adviser of ambitious young men and timid young women.

A young man, who had been sent by his country in Alabama to represent it in the Legislature, attended a reception at the state capital city. He was country-bred, unused to society; the brilliant gathering bewildered him, and overlooked by his hostess—he sat silent and depressed. Mrs. Le Vert was there—the center of admiring friends. Her quick eye discovered the young stranger and she came and sat beside him. With tactful art she drew him out of his embarrassed, self-conscious mood, and led him to talk of his home and his people; finally of his ambitious hopes and plans. When she had succeeded in reviving his self esteem, she introduced him to some of her friends and he greatly enjoyed the occasion.

In later life, when he had won a reputation, he spoke with feeling of Mrs. Le Vert's kindness that evening. "It saved me," he said, from becoming embittered and discouraged, and, possibly, from giving up my hope of a public career."—Mary E. Bryan, in Uncle Remus's—The Home Magazine for April.

"I'd Rather Die, Doctor, than have my feet cut off," said M. L. Bingham, of Princeton, Ill., "but you'll die from gangrene (his hand had extensive weight of his toes) if you don't," said all doctors. ## Farmer Will Control.

According to E. H. Harriman, the railway magnate the farmer will be the one who in the future will control the industrial situation. In discussing his viewpoint, Mr. Harriman said: "The farmer will be in control of the situation. He has been getting richer, and he will be richer. He will furnish a great deal of capital for legitimate uses, and our prosperity depends upon the purposes for which this money is used. If it goes into legitimate development and the ordinary channels of business, this country will be better off. But if it is tied up in new schemes, in the building of new railroads, or put in places where it will be readily accessible, it is going to be hard for those who need money at regular and well-known in-

Women as Well as Men are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted. If the child urinates too often, if the urine smells like the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, dependancy, if the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling all about it. Beware of cheap imitations of Swamp-Root, which are including many of the thousands of testimonials received from sufferers who found Swamp-Root to be just the remedy needed. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., make no mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

It cannot be denied that many men have been at work, many of the lagging industries have revived and the outlook is hopeful. Capital must be invested so that men may not be idle.

TABLE NAPKINS.

An Amusing History of This Very Indispensable Article.

Curiously enough, the table napkin, now deemed almost indispensable, was first used only by children and was adopted by elder members of the family only about the middle of the eighteenth century. In etiquette books of an earlier date, among other salutary pieces of advice for children, are instructions about wiping their fingers and lips with their napkins.

It seems that the tablecloth was long enough to reach the floor and served the grown people in place of napkins. When they did begin to use napkins they placed them first on the shoulder, then on the left arm, and finally tied them about the neck. A French writer, who evidently was conservative and did not welcome the napkin kindly, records with scorn:

"The napkin is placed under the chin and fastened in the back, as if one was going to be shaved. A person told me he knew his that way that he might not soil his beautiful face."

It was a difficult matter to tie the two corners in the back, and it is said that they originated our expression for straitened circumstances. "Hard to make both ends meet." This custom led to the habit shown by waiters of carrying a napkin across the left arm. Napkins became popular in France sooner than in England. At one time it was customary at great French dinners to change the napkins at every course, to perfume them with rosewater and to have them folded a different way for every guest.

About 1660 Pierre Daniel published "Maitre d'Hotel," which teaches how to fold on patterns properly and how to fold all kinds of table napkins in all kinds of fancy shapes.

The shapes were square, twisted, folded in bands, in the form of double and twisted shells, single shell, double melon, single melon, cock, hen and chickens, pigeon in the basket, partridge, pheasant, two capons in a plow, two rabbits, sucking pig, dog with a collar, pike, carp, turbot, miter, turkey, tortoise, the holy cross and the Lorraine cross.

Burley Tobacco Men Meet.

The Executive Committee of the Burley Tobacco Society met at Winchester, Ky., last Tuesday. Over one hundred hogheads of out of the amount sold the American Tobacco Company were returned as faked, and they discussed the matter of fixing a price on this. Mr. H. A. Walker, of Louisville, was there to represent the American Tobacco Company.—Farmers Home Journal.

500 pair pants worth $1.50 to $2.50 will go at 90c at W. J. Schopp's, Stephensport, Ky.

Conscience.

Conscience warns against that which is wrong. Conscience prompts and approves that which is right.

Every intelligent tobacco grower who is opposing organization crop regulation and pooling by farmers, is going against his conscience.

Every farmer who is preparing to grow a "bumper" crop of burley in 1909 is going against his conscience.

Conscience is the knowledge of one's own thoughts and actions. Conscience is the moral sense.

The majority of tobacco growers are intelligent enough to know that if the organizations go down, and pooling is not maintained, that there will be no protection for farmers against the schemers who robbed them for so long.

There isn't a single tobacco raiser in all this tobacco section whose conscience does not wince against an effort to grow more than 80,000,000 pounds of burley with hardly enough labor to grow that much.

There are few growers whose judgment, whose business sense, doesn't pronounce against such effort.

What then, actuates those who are preparing to make such effort?

What but the meanest things in human nature, selfishness and greed?

Those are the things that are deadening the conscience and blunting the judgment of those men.

What wonder, then, that what does that, blinds those men to the position they're placing themselves in toward their neighbors.

They are so blinded that they can't see that they, by their actions, make for discussion, disturbance, enmity. They can't see that the respect of their fellow men is worth more to them than many crops of tobacco at a high price. They can't see that to lose that respect and by mean actions create the opposite of respect, will mean their removal from the community or living in it unapparently.

—Tobacco Tidings.

HOME. ENDORSEMENT

Hundreds of Cloverport Citizens Can Tell You All About it.

Home endorsement, the public expression of Cloverport people, should be evidence beyond dispute for every Cloverporter. Surely the experience of friends and neighbors, cheerfully given by them, will carry more weight than the utterances of strangers residing in faraway places. Read the following:

Price Graham, Railroad St., Cloverport, Ky., says: "I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as a remedy that will live up to representations. For four years I suffered from disordered kidneys and the secretions were much to frequent in passage forcing me to rise several times during the night. Whenever I caught cold, it was sure to settle in my kidneys and greatly aggravate my trouble. My back ached severely and when I stooped, I was seized by sharp twinges through my loins. The ache in my back at night greatly disturbed my rest and in the morning I rose feeling lame and sore. I was very nervous, the slightest work tired me and I often felt dull and languid. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Fisher's drug store, relieved me in a short time and it required but the contents of four boxes to effect a complete cure. I can state that this cure has proven to be a permanent one and it gives me pleasure to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to others afflicted in a similar manner."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., New York, send for circular to the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Test Your Corn

Do not plant a grain of corn until the ear from which that grain came has been tested for germination strength. If you buy seed corn, buy only in the ear. Don't buy shell seed corn under any consideration. Tested corn assures a good stand; a good stand assures a good crop. It is just as easy to have a good stand as a bad one. It is cheaper to cultivate a good stand than it is to cultivate a bad one.

Good Roads Pointers.

Statute law very often does harm by causing the township funds to be spent on a statute law basis by pathymeters who may be good farmers, but who have not the first idea of how to build a road that will last.

A road that, in the spring and fall, has to be sampled in glass jars is not a good road. The greatest injury is done to roads in the spring. Use tile to keep the foundations dry, and traffic cannot cut through a good crust.

Test the surface of the roads; but at the same time do not forget that mud

HOW ONE MAN SOLD HIS FARM

A Minnesota Farmer successfully tries new long-distance plan of selling.

FOURTEEN MEN IN SIX DIFFERENT STATES WANT HIS PLACE.

Makes sale without aid of real estate agent and doesn't pay a cent commission.

Cass Co., Minnesota, (Special Correspondent.) The farmers in this section are increasingly interested in a recent experience of one of their neighbors. Mr. H. J. Johnson, who owns a farm in Cass County, has succeeded in selling it at his own price, and in a very short time. He has done this by the use of a new plan of selling, and he has been able to sell his farm fourteen times over as fast as he could have done so by the old plan of a conversation with your correspondent, Mr. Johnson.

Mr. Johnson, I sold my farm without any trouble and for the benefit of others who desire to sell, don't mind telling you just how it happened. I had tried all the usual methods of selling, that is by advertising in the local papers and through real estate men, and I had given up hope of being able to sell, when I happened to receive the advertisement of a concern called "The Evening Post," and I wrote to them at once.

under the road is worse than mud on top. Use tile to keep the sub-soil dry. There is more time and energy wasted in driving through bad roads than would be required to build good roads three times as long.

Do not grade the roads any wider than is necessary to accommodate travel. Every additional foot of width adds largely to the cost of maintenance. Do not let water stand on the surface of a gravel or stone road, either in the wheel tracks or pools. It costs less to drain water off the road than to pile on new gravel and stone year after year.—Municipal World.

The Only Way

To the Glenner's way of thinking there are but two ways to look at the pooling proposition. The farmer must either join the pool or be at the mercy of the Trust. The facts are that for three or four years before the pool was formed the Trust took the tobacco for practically nothing. Since the pool was formed, the price has been doubled. The tobacco raiser ought to be able to figure out for himself which has been and will be best for him. The management of the pool may not have been perfect and it is unreasonable to expect that every one will be pleased no matter how well it may be managed. But a management that enables the tobacco raiser to get twice as much through it as he did through the Trust is not to be sneezed at, we are here to tell you—Henderson Glenner.

City Built By Advertising.

Van Norden Magazine.

Do you believe in advertising? Los Angeles does. Little more than a generation ago Los Angeles was a Mexican pueblo of ten thousand souls and a few flea-bitten dogs. Today it is an up-to-date city, with nearly 300,000 people; progressive, busy, educated people, who enjoy as much culture as the eastern cities that boast of more.

The commercial organizations of this western metropolis have spent in the last ten years (directly) nearly four hundred thousand dollars in telling what a fine place to live in Los Angeles is. Newspapers, magazines, train time-tables, street cars, handbills, posters, billboards, everywhere has been blazoned forth the virtues of Los Angeles. Persons who have never been within 3,000 miles of the city speak of it as the paradise on earth. And has this advertising paid? Ask a man from Los Angeles.

It has been the same with Los Angeles, though, as with any marketable product. You must believe in your wares. Now the southern Californian believes in Los Angeles as he believes in his appetite. To him there's no place like it; what's more, he tells people so. He tells them in such a way that they tell others. The answer: one of the finest cities in the Union.

What time will the clock stop?

Rosa Viola Sippel

Wins a Dollar Prize.

"The Kentucky Little Citizens" a most interesting magazine published in Louisville for girls and boys, has the following to say about Rosa Viola Sippel:

Some improvement is shown in the general run of letters from the young writers this week. Rosa Viola Sippel, of Cloverport, is entitled to the first prize. She has written about her favorite book and told in brief the story of the book. In some respects this is not as good as an entirely original composition, but Rosa has written a letter of exceptional neatness, has been careful of her spelling and punctuation, and must necessarily have taken much pains with her composition.

I have read many good books, but "The Wide, Wide World" is the best I have ever read. It was about a little girl, eleven years old, whose name was Ellen Montgomery. Her mother was an invalid and was going on a tour to Europe for her health with her husband, who had business there.

They were not going to take Ellen

TWO GRATEFUL, HEALTHY WOMEN.

We are heartily glad that we learned about Peruna.

Thank you for the good Peruna has done for me.

I was a sufferer for twenty-two years, to-day am well.

MRS. PAULINE WINTERS HAUSEN

Internal Catarrh Trouble. Mrs. Pauline Winters Hansen, 211 28th Ave., West, Duluth, Minn., writes: "I want to say a good word for Peruna, as it has cured me of two trouble-some diseases."

"It was troubled for five years with eczema on the hands, and a severe internal trouble combined with nervousness. For two years I used remedies without lasting benefit."

"Four bottles of Peruna cured both my troubles entirely, so that no trace of them is left. I feel better than I ever did before, which I owe to Dr. Hartman and Peruna."

"I shall be glad to answer any inquiries that come to me in regard to this letter. Peruna is unsurpassed by any medicine for these troubles. We are heartily glad that we learned about the Peruna."

"Dr. Hartman has answered every letter that I sent him free, and does for every one who applies to him."

Case was similar to mine being cured by Peruna, so thought I would give it a trial. I have taken nineteen bottles and am entirely cured. Have gained in strength and flesh, and feel like a different person. I believe Peruna is all that is claimed for it."

Internal Catarrh Trouble. Mrs. J. C. Jamison, 61 Marchant St., Watonsville, Cal., writes: "I was troubled with cramps in the stomach for six years. They said that I had nervous dyspepsia. I believe Peruna is all that is claimed for it."

Cramps in Stomach. Mrs. Vavse, an old lady, was very kind to Ellen, and taught her how to read French. While in Europe Ellen's mother died, and her father, who was expected home, got lost in a ship wreck. Mrs. Vavse's granddaughter, Nancy, who worked at Mrs. Van Brunt's found some letters that had been written to Ellen three years after her mother's death (her mother had written them), stating that Ellen should go to Scotland and stay with her grandmother. She went and everybody treated her kindly. She wanted for nothing, only to come back to America and see the ones she loved best, which she finally did at the age of about twenty-one or twenty-two years of age.

Ellen's last gift from her mother was a Bible, and when she was in trouble she always went to her Bible, and at last she became a very firm Christian, spending an hour each day in the study of her Bible.

Rosa Viola Sippel, Cloverport, Ky.
